at Pittsburgh have just had their wages reduced all along the line. In the puddling department the reduction is from $5 50 to $5 per ton. As the Democratic party is now in the saddle, trifles like these are unnoticed by our neighbor of The Bulletin.

OUR esteemed neighbor of The Bulletin made great haste to give Secretary CARLISLE credit for the accumulation of a few millions of free gold in the Treasury-a condition with which he had no more to do than the late lamented WIL-LIAM GLOVER; but it appears to have escaped his attention entirely that since the new Administration came into power the Republicans have made a clean sweep in every municipl election that has been held in New Jersey. In Cape May the Democratic candidate for Mayor. an incumbent of that office for eight years, was completely routed by his Republican antagonist.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says that Secretary Carlisle of the Treasury Department has taken a stand on the labor question that is in sharp contrast to the policy which has been pursued heretofore. The Fresident of one of the most prominent labor organizations sent woru to him that he would like to have a hearing before an appointment was made in New York, which would have more or less to do with immigration. The Secretary answered that he did not propose to consult any organization or association of any kind whatever in making his appointments; that if they or their representatives had anything to say, or recommendations to make, they could file them in writing or they could state them as individuals. Further, he said he proposed to treat all persons coming to him as American citizens, and individually. As this is the stand taken by the party whose success is largely due to disgruntled labor organizations, it is to be hoped they will take their medicine cheerfully.

by an inch that a vacancy in President Cleveland's cabinet was averted Monday. Secretary Carlisle came as near to losing his life as a man ever came without receiving bodily injury. About 1 o'clock the secretary started from the treasury department for his home. three or four blocks distant, for lunch eon. On his way he had to cross Fif-teenth street at the intersection with New York avenue, which has long been known as the most dangerous corner in the city. Here the cable cars sweet around the corner at a rapid speed, and many accidents have occurred there. As Secretary Carlisle started across the eyes were on the ground, and he appeared to be entirely oblivious of his surroundings. A cable train at that moment was coming around the corner. There was great danger that the secretary could not get out of its way. The gripman rang his bell violently, the passengers in the grip-car stood up and shouted, and the people on the street set up a shout of warning. Secretary Carlisle did not hear them, or he did not seem to realize that they were endeavoring to attract his attention. Just in the nick of time a passer-by sprang at Carlisle, seized him around the waist and dragged him off the tracks. The front end of the cable car brushed his clothing in passing.

LOST IN A STORM.

Three Hundred Siberian Convicts Proces to Death on the Roadside.

St. Petersbure, March 21 .- Siberian advices give details of a sad loss of life among a band of convicts bound for the prisons of Siberia. The band numbered 374 persons in all. The convicts were marching to their various destinations during a snow storm, and when six hours' march from Tomsk the storm had become so severe that all the roads were obliterated.

Chained together the convicts struggled on, until gradually the weaker ones fell in the deep snow, dragging the stronger ones down with them. Despite the efforts of the Cossack guards the exhausted people could make no attempt to save themselves. and they were left to freeze to death, while the others were driven forward, those in charge of them hoping to get them to shelter. When the guards managed to get what few remained of their charges to a place of safety they found that of the three hundred and seventy-four persons they had started with only ninety-one survived. Sixtytwo of those who had perished were political prisoners. Among those lost were Madame Lazarov, six other wom en and four children.

STARVING MEN TORTURED. Sickening Story of Cruelties Practiced on Connectiont Convicts. NEW YORK, March 91.—The World devotes a page to an expose of the cruelties alleged to be inflicted on the convicts of Connecticut state prison. It is asserted that many convicts have been driven to madness by Warden Chamberlain's cruelty and neglect.

Several were clubbed to death and the common punishment for trifling offenses was confinement in a dungeon. Many more were strung up by the thumbs, and keepers were sent in front of the starving wretches with tempting food to tantalize them. Several victims were choked, it is alleged, and died soon after. The clubbing of men was frequent Corroborative evidence is given of the charges by ex-keepers who were forced by the warden to keep silent. An official investigation has been ordered.

MURPHY WILL KNOW WHY. so Will Hill-Four Tummanyite Clerks Get Their Discharge.

New York, March 21 .- A Washington special says that Senator Murphy, of New York, is preparing to put on his war paint. The cause is the discharge of four democratic employes of the treasury department. The four are Tammany men, and they claim there was no justice in the discharge, and declare that anti-snapper interference is at the bottom of the whole affair. Senator Murphy proposes to secure the reinstatement of the clerks or know the reason why, and he will have the earnest support of Senator Hill. It is stated unofficially that the discharged officials will not be reinstated. The reasons for the dismissals are not given.

Miners' Horrible Death.

LONDON, March 21.-A horrible accident occurred Monday morning in a coalpit near Chesterfield, Derbyshire. While the cage was descending, loaded with miners going to their day's work, the eage, owing to some accident to the apparatus, suddenly fell to the bottom of the shaft and eight miners were killed. The affair caused great excitement, and men, women and children hurried to the mouth of the shaft to see if their relatives were among the dead.
